What percent of businesses claim that tax rate or rule errors are the reason for penalties?

Answer

48%

Of businesses claim
tax rate or rule
errors are the #1
reason for penalties

TAKEAWAY:
Ensure calculation accuracy

An example: it's not just about technology

Tax Type	Lifeline Exemption	Residential Customer
	Tax Cost	Tax Cost
CA Emergency 911 Surcharge	$0.00	$0.30
CA PUC Fee	$0.36	$0.45
CA Public Purpose Program Fee	$0.00	$1.11
CA State 988 Fee	$0.00	$0.08
	$0.36	$1.94

$1.58

* Tax line charges that are different between Lifeline and Residential

True or false...

Most of a bundled VoIP service is not applicable to FUSF tax.

Better strategies powered by technology

- Example: VoIP product for $19.00
  - Bundled, you're paying ~$6.00 in FUSF taxes
  - Unbundled, you're paying ~$2.50
  - Certain components of that bundle aren't subject to FUSF
  - Most of the bundle likely to not be assessable

True or false...

AI will replace tax
auditors.

New sheriff in town – the AI Auditor

- Even the most basic of AI tools can be used to track down delinquent taxpayers
  - You have "tele" in your company name
  - You're filing sales tax
  - Are you filing Excise tax?
- Bottom line: pay now or pay later

3. Sustainable Growth Financing Plan

What excited me about 2020 from a market perspective also 'scared' me, UC&C has become front and center, I subscribe to Andy Grove's notion that "only the paranoid survive". Hence, given we are 'on the radar', it is that much more critical that we have a strong enough balance sheet to compete and thrive and hence most importantly help our service providers grow in the marketplace.
